

Integrity Health & Safety Vehicle Breakdown Kit

Working in partnership to safeguard the safety of drivers and increase Indigenous healthcare capability.

Benefits of working with Integrity Health & Safety

Organisations are seeking to reduce the environmental impacts of production and consumption, breaking away from the 'make, use, dispose' cycle to a holistic approach that is more beneficial to the environment, consumers, staff and other stakeholders. Integrity Health & Safety is playing its part by selling wellbeing, health and safety products & services.

Integrity Health & Safety is run by practising intensive care paramedics and healthcare professionals who are passionate about health and wellbeing. Click here to see Introductory Video by Liam Harte, Founder and Director.

Via their Social Impact Commitment, Integrity Health & Safety fund First Nations' nurses in flu vaccination, CPR, first aid and leadership courses to build healthcare capability in their communities and farther afield. Integrity Health & Safety's customers include federal and state government departments, corporates and not-for-profit organisations.

Many of these customers are committed to 'Closing the Gap' in their supply chains via government targets, such as the federal government's Indigenous Procure Policy and NSW's Aboriginal Procurement Program, as well as via Reconciliation Action Plans and membership of Supply Nation.

Integrity Health & Safety believe in supplying leading brand, competitively priced products and services in a transparent and ethical manner.

Light Vehicle Breakdown Kit

SG Fleet is committed to 'Close the Gap' by embedding Indigenous procurement in its supply chain.

One example is SG Fleet's longstanding partnership with Integrity Health & Safety, a certified Indigenous-owned supplier of WH&S products.

Integrity Health & Safety first aid kits have been sourced from global manufacturers and have been tailored specifically for use in vehicles.

The Light Vehicle Breakdown Kit is best suited for delivery vans, company and light utility vehicles. The kit comes with a triangle, a torch and a vest for emergency breakdown.
